MAIL CALL
AUGUST 2006

COMMANDANT'S CORNER

Despite 105 degree temperatures the plant sale was a success. We sat up in the Les Schwab parking lot on Lancaster Drive and a Sunday, and sold almost $400 worth of plants by 1400. That is when the temperature peaked out, and the plants started wilting. We called a halt and went where we could get a cold one. At the new establishment everyone noticed our Marine Corps League regalia. When we explained what we were doing, the waitress passed the hat around and collected about $35. That put us over the $400 mark. Despite the heat and misery, a good time was had by all. That seems to happen every time a group of Marines get together. Thanks to all who participated. A special thanks to James and Tina Swogger for putting it all together. We will do it again next year, and do it bigger and better, as we always do.

James is also continuing in his effort to raise money through the collection of recyclable cans and bottles. Start collecting them, and bring 'em to the meeting as the one that brings in the most bottles for the next two meetings (August and September) will get a free Eagles dinner on the Detachment. We have a lot of items to be shipping to the troops in Afghanistan, and we need the money to do it. See you all at the meeting next Wednesday evening. Be sure to come. Things are happening fast.

And a big Semper Fi to you all.
Terry
